WEEK 1
Advent

CATECHISM 101

The INTERIOR OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Each of the objects, the surroundings in our Catholic churches, has a purpose and a history. May we always seek the mysteries, beauty and love of Christ found in our sacred place.

Confessional

The early Christians confessed their sins sometimes directly to a bishop or even before the whole congregation.

This practice ended during the papacy of Pope Leo I (440-461), who taught that sins should be disclosed privately to a priest, stating that secret confession to the clergy was sufficient.

Face-to-face confession was standard until the Middle Ages, when screens were introduced to separate priests from female penitents. This development eventually produced the 16th-century confessional booth, which made confession mostly anonymous until Vatican II. In 1974, the Church adopted a new rite that encouraged the use of reconciliation rooms, allowing penitents to choose either face-to-face confession or confession behind a screen. Canon law still requires that churches have a fixed screen available for those who wish to use it, (Canon 964 section 2 of the Code of Canon Law). Acts 19:18; Mt. 18:15-17, 18; 16:19.

Advent

Last week, the Catholic Church celebrated the Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe. This feast marked the conclusion of the previous liturgical year, with the final Gospel messages focusing on the Second Coming of Christ.

Now, the season of Advent begins a new liturgical cycle, specifically Cycle A. This holy season is a time of reflection, longing, and preparation, as the faithful anticipate receiving the Messiah both at Christmas, commemorating His first coming, and in hope of His final return.

Pilgrims of Hope, live in Peace, Joy and Love.
